PEACE AND PLEASANT FOR AMERICANS

President and His Fellow-citizens in Capital Worship and Enjoy Good Cheer.

SURPRISING SNOW MARS

EARLY PART OF DAY

Thanksgiving Observed in Churches, Homes, and Charitable Institutions of District.

Americans throughout the world acknowledged yesterday their thankfulness for blessings of peace and plenty which have been given them as a people and as individuals. Here in the Nation's Capital, where a wet, gloomy snow gave way to clear, cold brightness for President Taft and his fellow-citizens of Washington to worship and enjoy good cheer, and in every city and hamlet, almost in every home in the States; in the capitals and cities of Europe; in the far-off Philippines; in Alaska; in the Indies; in every land where two or three were gathered together as citizens of the United States, there was a pause from daily toil and commerce for an observance that ancient custom and tradition have made a holy day.

Thanksgiving in Washington was brilliant. A surprising snow, the first of the season, marked the early part of the day, but it fell before 10 o'clock, the hour of the most splendid observance of the day, the Pan-American mass at St. Patrick's Church, and within an hour the clouds were vanishing before the sun. By early afternoon the sky was clear, the air crisp, and the breeze freshening into the speed that makes the blood tingle. From that time on the weather was of the moderate order kind, and the thousands who had awakened to gloomy thoughts of a shut-in Thanksgiving Day crowded out upon the streets and into parks and highways for a glimpse of the open, and after the usual turkey feasts of early evening, fared forth once more, to forgetfulness in the cafes and hotels, at dances or parties or theaters.

Feeling of Kindness.
There was hardly a church or religious association or school or institution that did not observe the day in some way, and at some places there were very elaborate preparations. Even in the police courts, where several unfortunate had to face justice, there was apparent feeling of kindness and charity that must needs be the companion of thankfulness.

Those District institutions which are called penal, correctional and charitable all had Thanksgiving food and leisure. Nearly 1,000 pounds of turkey, with a proportionate quantity of celery and cranberries, were distributed for Thanksgiving Day dinners, and the inmates enjoyed a good meal. At the Oceanview workhouse the prisoners were allowed a day of rest and a big dinner, most of which was raised on the place. Turkey was provided at the Industrial Home School, the Reform School for Girls, the Industrial Home School for Colored Children, the National Training School for Boys, the Tuberculosis Hospital, the Temporary Home for ex-Union Soldiers and Sailors, the Florence Crittenton Home and Help Mission, and other institutions.

It is estimated that the District's turkey bill aggregated $200.

DENVER POLICE CHIEF

AT NEW YORK HOME
Yonkers, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Miss Blanche Bates, the well-known actress, and George Creel, editorial writer and police commissioner of Denver, Colo., were married this evening in Miss Bates' home in New York. The ceremony was private, only a few relatives and friends of the couple being present, and was performed by the Rev. A. N. Patterson, of Scarborough Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Rupert Hughes was matron of honor, and Wylie Creel, of St. Louis, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Virginia Creel, the bridegroom's mother, was escorted to the room by Judge Ben Lindsay, of Denver. After the ceremony the bride party motored to Manhattan and gave a dinner at Belmont's, which was attended by prominent writers and theatrical folk. After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Creel will leave for Denver.

EDUCATIONAL BODY MEETS.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 28.—The annual convention of the Southern Educational Association convened here to-day.

The meeting was held in the Warren Memorial Presbyterian Church, where all of the general sessions of the organization will assemble during the three days of the convention. The delegates were welcomed to Louisville by Dr. I. N. Bloom, president of the local Board of Education, and Bishop Charles E. Woodcock, of this city. Responses on behalf of the association were made by the Hon. J. N. Powers, State Superintendent of Education, Jackson, Miss.

After the reception of the delegates papers on educational subjects were read by members of the association. Among those who addressed the organization on this subject were Bishop Thomas F. Galloway, of Memphis, Tenn., who spoke on "American Education," Dr. E. E. Ball, professor of education, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tenn., whose subject was "A False Education and Some of Its Ills," and Dr. William D. Widdie, president of the S. W. Presbyterian University, Clarksville, Pa., who spoke upon "The Bible and Education."

LEAVES ESTATE TO BARBER

New York, Nov. 28.—In a hotel she called home, scarcely fit for the cats who were her companions, Miss Octavia Friedrich, seventy years old, reputed to be worth nearly a million dollars, was found dead to-day. She had been burned and suffocated while cooking her Thanksgiving dinner. By her side were twelve of her pets dead. Eight others, stuffed, were found in another room of the second floor of 21-25 Hoyt Street, Brooklyn, where she had lived for a half-century.

All her money will go to Antonio Orckinto, a barber, who had a shop in the ramshackle old building, and who for twelve years had collected her cash and acted as her agent in all matters. Orckinto to-night gave out a copy of a will which he said she had made on September 28 last leaving to him all her earthly possessions.

These, if the will holds good, include a row of six hotels, in one of which she died, several lots, and almost $1,000,000 in cash and securities in the People's Trust Company and the Brooklyn Savings Bank.

Brother and Sister Living.
A brother and sister, Alphonse and Emile Friedrich, with whom she quarreled, it is said, twenty-five years ago, are living in San Diego, Cal. They, so far as the barber knows, are her only relatives and heirs to the estate which she bequeathed to him.

Miss Friedrich was a cripple from paralysis, and had not been outside the rooms where she lived for more than a score of years.

The house in which she died is one of a row of ramshackle buildings in Hoyt Street, in the heart of the dry goods district of Brooklyn. Real estate for a glimpse of the open, and after the usual turkey feasts of early evening, fared forth once more, to forgetfulness in the cafes and hotels, at dances or parties or theaters.

WILSON SETS DATE

TO MEET BRYAN

President-elect to Confer with the "Peerless Leader" in New York on Return from Bermuda.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 28.—The possibility of Bryan visiting Gov. Wilson during his stay here is precluded by a letter which the President-elect has just written to Bryan, making an appointment for a conference in New York.

The President-elect wishes to consult with Mr. Bryan as one of the leaders of the Democratic party. He will also consult with other Democratic leaders upon his return.

Gov. Wilson spent the early part of the day driving. After dinner he and Mrs. Wilson and their three daughters attended a performance of "Our Mutual Friend" in the Colonial Opera House with Gov. Gen. Bullock.

BRYAN'S CONFERENCE

WITH WILSON CAUSES GREAT INTEREST HERE

The report that President-elect Wilson and William J. Bryan will meet in conference immediately upon Gov. Wilson's return to the United States next month has excited a good deal of interest among Democratic leaders in Washington.

As has been indicated in the dispatches, The Washington Herald, the relations between Messrs. Wilson and Bryan are exceedingly close and intimate.

When it first became known that Mr. Bryan was to be one of the advisers of the new President, predictions were freely made that Gov. Wilson had launched himself on a sea of trouble. Belief was expressed that Mr. Bryan, running in old-time ways, would attempt to hold President Wilson aloof from certain Democratic leaders that Bryan has fought for years. According to statements made by friends of Mr. Bryan, he is about to reverse himself. He is preaching harmony and conciliation, and his friends say that it is his wish that the party factions shall be drawn together. It is said that Mr. Bryan will play politics in a more practical manner in the next four years in the hope that he will land the nomination in the Democratic National Convention of 1916.

BONE FRAGMENT IN

HEART CAUSES DEATH OF BOY FOOTBALL PLAYER

Philadelphia, Nov. 28.—A tiny fragment of bone, a splinter from a fractured leg, killed fifteen-year-old George W. Hayes, when it touched his heart, according to physicians at the Children's Homeopathic Hospital to-day.

The remarkable case is being investigated by Deputy Coroner Shugart. According to the physicians, the boy was injured in a football game on November 12. He was taken to the hospital with a broken leg. The break was apparently healing when the boy came to the hospital on the 28th.

He died last night, and the physicians learned that a small piece of bone had been carried through his veins to the heart. It lodged there and caused his death.

GERMANY PLANS AIR

Each airship will carry one ton of explosives. A bill to this effect will be introduced in the Reichstag shortly by the government.

PUBLIC HEARING

TO BE GRANTED

New Traffic Regulations for District Will Be Discussed Before the Commissioners.

REQUEST OF BOARD OF TRADE

A public hearing on the new traffic regulations which were completed by Commissioner Johnston early this week will be granted some time next week in response to a request to be made to-day through Board of Trade channels. The request for a public hearing on the regulations before their promulgation will be on Commissioner Johnston's week when he returns from Monday.

The decision to ask for a public hearing on the proposed regulations was reached Wednesday following an informal discussion between certain officers and members of the Board of Trade. The movement originated in automobile touring circles, where the fear is expressed that the new regulations may not be as nearly identical with the regulations of New York and other near-by cities as is desirable.

Uniformity is Kept.
Uniformity has been the keynote sounded by those who have been foremost in improving traffic regulations throughout the country, particularly large touring associations whose members in the course of their travels are much hampered by the necessity of learning new regulations in each municipality traversed in order to avoid constant annoyances from municipal officers.

As the education of the driver and chauffeur is considered the most important feature of any campaign to improve street traffic regulations, it is considered vitally important that the path of the driver be made as simple as possible. The same argument applies with equal force to pedestrians, who by knowing what the regulations require of drivers of vehicles are able to know in advance what a vehicle will do in a given situation.

Among those who will appear at the traffic regulations hearing are representatives of the Board of Trade and the local branch of the Automobile Association of America.

SUFFRAGETTES BLAMED

FOR DESTROYING MAIL IN ENGLISH CITIES

London, Nov. 28.—Enormous damage to mail matter lying in postal boxes to the city, West End, and the suburbs of London, was discovered when the evening collection was made to-day. The outrage is attributed to suffragettes, the destruction of important documents, share certificates, contracts, and paper money were destroyed in the city area, where the destruction was the most serious. The method used was the pouring of paint, kerosene, and corrosive acid into the boxes. When the mail bags were emptied for sorting, heaps of the damaged letters burst into flames. No arrests have as yet been made.

Several provincial cities suffered similar outrages. It is a noticeable fact that damage to the contents of ten postal boxes in Birmingham coincided with the visit of Mrs. Pankhurst to that city.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER.

WOMAN SUES PUBLISHER AND AUTHOR FOR LIBEL

London, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Steinheil, who was acquitted in the French courts several years ago of the charge of murdering her husband, appeared in the London courts to-day looking as attractive in appearance as ever, to prosecute her acquittal against the publisher, the author, and H. L. Adams, an author, for libel. She looked so young that the French reporters who knew her when she came into notoriety through the mysterious death of her husband and mother, took her for her daughter. Mrs. Steinheil demanded heavy damages because of insinuations in Mr. Adams' book, "Women and Crime," that she was guilty of the murder of her husband and mother.

The court declared that in view of the verdict in the French jury acquitting Mrs. Steinheil, the statements were entirely unwarranted, and consented to an injunction against the further publication of the book. It was further announced that the defendant had agreed to pay Mrs. Steinheil a certain sum of money, the exact amount, however, being kept secret, in liquidation of the damages. Mrs. Steinheil, whose salon was the center of the literary, artistic, and political world of Paris, is now living in seclusion in Surrey. She says she brought this suit in order to stop for all time further attacks such as those in Adams' book.

LONDON POLICE CHIEF.

SHOT BY CHAUFFEUR.

London, Nov. 28.—Sir Edward Richard Henry, chief commissioner of the London police, who was shot last night by Charles Bower, a chauffeur, was in a serious condition to-day, and the attending physicians, while hopeful, would not commit themselves to a definite prediction of his ultimate recovery.

Bower was arraigned in the West London police station, but was remanded until Saturday to await the outcome of the wound.

The police have learned that Bower applied for a taxicab license a month ago, but that it was refused by the police. They attribute the shooting to revenge.

Although Bower fired three shots, but one struck the chief. This entered the left groin, inflicting a dangerous wound. Sir Edward has been head of the Metropolitan police since 1902. Before that he was in the Indian service.
